Sponsored By: Pi Sigma Epsilon & WISport to benefit
RELAY FOR LIFE

Pi Sigma Epsilon is a national, professional, co-educational business fraternity focusing on marketing, sales management and selling. The Beta Gamma chapter at UW-Whitewater is dedicated to helping RELAY FOR LIFE SUPPORTING PEOPLE AFFECTED BY CANCER. Half of the proceeds raised will go towards the funding of Pi Sigma Epsilon events, while the other half will go towards the American Cancer Society.

Pedal For Proceeds: Relay For Life

Course Description:

The 25 mile race will travel from the UW-Whitewater campus and work its way through the surrounding area. The start/finish line is near the intersection of Prairie Street and Schwager Drive. This flat course is challenging, but is a great opportunity for beginners. This is a WISport series event and is an open event.

All cyclists must wear a Snell or ANSI approved helmet. No aero bars allowed

Registration:

Pre-registration is strongly encouraged. Complete the entry form with checks payable to: Pi Sigma Epsilon. Entry fees received by April 8th will be $25 for cyclists and $30 for tandem cyclists. After that, prices will be $30 for cyclists and $35 for tandem cyclists. Registration will be from 8:00 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. The race will begin at 10:00 a.m. All cyclists are required to check in during the registration to receive their number.

All riders registered before April 8th will receive an event T-Shirt
